Labor Dept. provides revised labor law posters at no charge

PIERRE, S.D. – The South Dakota Department of Labor has updated labor law compliance posters available at no charge. Businesses may obtain them at any local South Dakota Career Center. This poster includes the six federal posting requirements, including the Fair Labor Standards Act with the new minimum wage rate which went into effect July 24.

Businesses should beware of companies soliciting unsuspecting individuals and attempting to sell compliance posters. They often use scare tactics about potential fines and penalties. The company's solicitations use an official-looking seal to create the impression the advertisement is actually an official communication from a government entity. Victims of poster scams should contact the Consumer Protection Unit at 1-800-300-1986 with information or to file a complaint.

To locate a local South Dakota Career Center or to download the required postings at no charge, visit www.sdjobs.org.
